deugro Appoints Kasper Heiselberg as President for Global Wind and Renewable Energy.

Hanau, Germany, June 1, 2026 – deugro appoints Kasper Heiselberg as President, Global Wind and Renewable Energy (GWRE), effective June 1, 2026.

With this appointment, deugro further strengthens its global leadership structure and reinforces its long-term commitment to the continued growth and development of the renewable energy sector.

Kasper Heiselberg joined deugro at the end of 2022 and has since played a key role in expanding the company's Global Wind and Renewable Energy activities and capabilities across international markets.

With extensive experience in the renewable energy and project logistics sectors, Kasper has been instrumental in further strengthening deugro's position as a trusted logistics partner for complex wind and renewable energy projects worldwide.

"In today's wind and renewable energy landscape, competitive advantage lies in combining global capabilities with strong local integration. By aligning commercial, technical and operational expertise from the outset, we create tailored, solution-driven approaches that address our clients' specific challenges. With a clear client-centric mindset, we connect the full supply chain and enable reliable, efficient execution of increasingly complex projects," said Kasper Heiselberg, President, Global Wind and Renewable Energy, deugro.

Kasper's appointment reflects deugro's continued focus on strengthening strategic growth areas while further expanding its global management structure to support long-term development and operational excellence across the organization.
